OPEN CROSSING

IS SETTLED

The City Council Favors the Hamilton Street Crossing
—Other Business.

So far as the City Council is concerned as to whether the Hamilton Street Crossing shall remain open to the traffic of the city and Broad Street crossing closed up or vice versa, the question has apparently been settled in the minds of the Aldermanic Board. Much of the discussion of Monday evening's regular meeting was focused upon this matter and by a vote of four to one the Council expressed themselves in favor of the Hamilton Street Crossing remaining open to the use of traffic and pedestrians, which event without very much doubt, means the closing up of Broad Street crossing for the time being. Only Ald. Cooper was absent from the meeting on Monday evening and of the other members present Ald. McCarthy was the only one who contended in favor of opening up Broad Street crossing. The question had also been under discussion at the meeting of the Board of Trade and last week a deputation appointed by the Board had an interview with Mr. Dennis, of the C.P.R. while he was in the city, who informed his interviewers that the Company were willing that only one crossing should be open and that one was Hamilton Street, it being the intention of the Company to oppose any application for the opening of the Broad Street crossing. With reference to the matter two distinct petitions were submitted to the Council, one favoring the Hamilton Street crossing and the other the opening up of Broad Street crossing. On the strength of the negotiations which have been carried on as well as of the largely signed petition from the ratepayers, favoring an opening at Hamilton Street, Ald. Balfour introduced and moved a resolution to record the approval of the Council that the said crossing should remain open and the resolution further instructed the Secretary to notify Mr. Dennis of the C.P.R. of the resolution passed and to write to the Secretary of the Railway Commission asking for the necessary action to be taken to make the crossing at Hamilton Street a legal one.

Ald. Balfour in support of his resolution, gave a short review of the negotiations which have been carried on between the city and the company for some time past. The city, he stated, could not compel the C.P.R. except through an order of the Railway Commission, to open any crossing. He had moved the resolution because a majority of the people interested are on the north side of the track. He had been guided also to a great extent by the largely signed petition from the north side people. The post office, schools, churches and various places where those residents come to were more convenient to reach by a crossing midway between Broad and Albert Streets. The business men of the city were as a majority in favor of the Hamilton Street crossing. It was, he stated, immaterial to himself which crossing was left open. In order to have the Broad Street crossing opened it would probably mean a fight with the Company. He also referred to the greater danger of the Broad Street crossing, as four new tracks were built there. He concluded that the question of protection at the crossing should be dealt with later.

Ald. Sinton asked whether the re-opening of the open crossing at Hamilton Street would debar the city from the right to have Broad Street crossing opened at a later date, to which query he received the assurance that it would not.

Ald. McCarthy speaking in favor of an open crossing at Broad Street stated that matters in connection with the street crossings appeared different from what they were a year ago.

As a member of last year's Council he thought he had a prior right in this matter before the other Aldermen. If they would look up the matter as to how it had been decided on a year ago, they would find the complexion of the thing materially different from what it was at that time.

It was a most extraordinary thing that after arranging to open up the Broad Street crossing that the Company should now reverse their position and declare in favor of Hamilton Street Crossing being opened. On the strength of arrangements which had been made to extend the platform the sidewalk on Broad Street had been extended to meet it. The ratepayers in that section had also the impression that Broad Street crossing would remain open. He considered the whole thing as a breach of the former arrangements. He referred to the danger of the Hamilton Street crossing and stated how a perfectly clear and unobstructed view from each way could be had on Broad Street. He was interested in the matter very largely, but his primary reason for the position he took was the fact that he had been urged by the residents in the eastern part and it was in their behalf he was acting. He had with him also a petition from a number of ratepayers, asking to have the opening granted.

Ald. Williams as seconder of the resolution stated that Hamilton Street crossing was the natural one from both ways. There had been two petitions, one of which was a very largely signed one from parties financially involved. He was not prejudiced in the matter, although he had business interests near Broad Street, but he was in favor of keeping the Hamilton crossing open and hoped the vote would be unanimous. Ald. Sinton stated that if by adopting the resolution they would be barred from asking for a crossing at Broad Street later on then he would not wish to vote for the resolution. His Worship Mayor Laird assured him that it was open to the city at any time to ask the Commission for another crossing.

On the resolution being put to a vote it was carried by four to one, Ald. McCarthy alone dissenting.

Communications.

The report submitted by Medical Health Officer Graham showed that during the month of August there were four cases of diphtheria, one of which proved fatal. For the month of September there were two mild cases. Other communications were:

From Inspector Harwood, asking for a phone in his office; from the private secretary of the Earl of Minto, thanking the city for the reception recently tendered to the vice-regal party; from the Secretary-Treasurer, showing that during the month of September there had been received 32 applications for building permits, the estimated costs of the new buildings being $32,710 and during the past five months there had been application for 118 building permits at an estimated cost of $160,010; from Alex. Ross, applying for the use of the City Hall for the evening of November 1st; two petitions from various merchants and others asking for open crossings at Hamilton and Broad Streets.

Two tenders were received for the construction of tanks as follows:

From J. McDougall at $120 each, and N. B. McInnis at $398 each.

The Finance Committee reported in favor of passing accounts to the amount of $14,863.89. The report was adopted.

Ald. Balfour read a report from that the matter should be cleared up and as there were members of the Council who were prominent insurance men, he would like to find out if the article in question had been inspired by any member of the Council.

Ald. McAra and Ald. Balfour arose and pleaded not guilty to the offence and after a little further discussion the Council adjourned.
